Librarian's Corner

Dear Colleagues,

I would like to alert you to some very useful art and architecture subscriptions that the Library has purchased and made available via the World Wide Web. Some of these resources such as Grove's Dictionary of Art, Artbibliographies Modern, and Avery Index to Architectural Periodicals were available for use in Ricker Library in paper format and/ or CD-ROM prior to these new subscriptions. Web access provides several advantages over stand alone CD-ROMS and the paper versions of these titles. The principal benefits are: the simultaneous use of the same source by multiple patrons, the ability to perform boolean searches, the possibility of searching the various databases beyond the confines of Ricker Library, and the ease of gaining access to updated information.

In addition, to the resources listed below, we anticipate the addition of Princeton University's Index of Christian Art and the Art Index Retrospective. As soon as these are fully operational, we will notify you. Some of you have asked about Web access to BHA, or the Bibliographie de l'Histoire de l'Art and as soon as a Web version becomes available, we will certainly be requesting that the Main Library's Electronic Resources Committee consider its purchase.

Please feel free to recommend any electronic resources that you would like to see made available on the UIUC campus.

Listed below are the main resources that are now available to you through the University Library's gateway (<http://www.library.uiuc.edu>). Once at the gateway, please select from the menu, "Search for Articles," and then click on ARTS & HUMANITIES DATABASES to see the available choices.

Art Abstracts:

Bibliographical database which indexes articles from 285 periodicals published world-wide. Covers 1983 to the present.

Artbibliographies Modern:

Provides abstracts of journal articles, books, essays, exhibition catalogs, dissertations and exhibition reviews. Begins with Impressionism and ends with recent works in the twenty-first century.

Arts and Humanities Citation Index:

Provides access to current bibliographic information for over 1,140 arts and humanities journals. Covers 1980-present.

---

Avery Index to Architectural Periodicals:

Indexes more than 1,000 periodicals in architecture, archaeology, city planning, interior design and historic preservation. Covers 1977-present.

ITER: Gateway to the Middle Ages and Renaissance:

Includes a database of journals of approximately 250,000 articles and reviews taken from over 400 medieval and renaissance journal titles. Updated daily with more than 60,000 new records added annually. The time frame covered is 400-1700 A.D. ITER plans to include access to conference proceedings, dissertations, etc. Under construction is a bibliography of monographs.

Scipio:

This database of Art and Rare Book Sales Catalogs describes art auction and rare book catalogs for sales from the late 16th century to the present. Records include the dates and places of sales, the auction houses, sellers, institutional holdings, and titles of works. Contains over 528,000 records, updated daily.

Questions about these sources may be directed to Jane Block.
