Performance Tips:

Playing a hoedown is a little different from playing your regular solos or orchestra music. You don't have to play exactly what's on the page, you just have to stay in the right key and keep the right number of beats.

Violins often add an "E" drone to the "B" section, but this isn't really practical for the cello. You'll have to either go into position or have a really good 4th finger reach to play the "B" section in the upper octave. You could also substitute the lower octave included here.
