Performance tips:

Playing a hoedown is a little different from playing your regular solos or orchestra music. You don't have to play exactly what is on the page, but you do have to stay in the right key and keep the right number of beats.

The melody is a framework; you can add your own ideas to personalize it. Try altering the rhythm, adding slurs or double stops, or filling in spaces in the music.

This version is based on the way the Fuzzy Mountain String Band play it. Some of the slurs in the "A" section are based on what is called a "Georgia bow" pattern designed to accent the off beats.
